Simpson-Mazzoli Immigration Bill

- 1) The Simpson-Mazzoli bill is the likely vehicle for immigration legislation in this session of Congress. Immigration law is amended in a fundamental way very infrequently. The President will meet with cabinet members on a potential compromise with the Simpson-Mazzoli legislation on Friday, April 16.
- 2) In comparison to the Administration's legislation, Simpson-Mazzoli calls for:
 - a) Stronger and broader sanctions against employers for hiring illegal aliens
 - o Applicable to all employers, not just those hiring four or more workers
 - o $1,000 for the first offense (Administration: $500), $2,000 for the second. Subsequent offenses are criminal misdemeanors: $1,000 fine, 6 months imprisonment, or both. (Administration second and subsequent offenses are punishable by civil fine of $1,000).
 - b) Implementation by the Administration, within three years, of an unspecified "secure system to determine employment eligibility" so that employers can distinguish among citizens, aliens permitted to work, and illegal aliens.
 - c) A more liberal amnesty program to give legal status to illegal aliens who have resided in the United States for some time.
